Risk of modern slavery in our operations and supply chains

Our business

All of AMA Group's operations are conducted in Australia and New Zealand. AMA Group recognises that our employees must be treated fairly and with respect, and paid in accordance with applicable legislation. AMA Group has implemented controls throughout the business to manage and mitigate the risk of causing or contributing to modern slavery within our workforce.

AMA Group had over 3,600 employees throughout our Australia and New Zealand operations as at 30 June 2025. The AMA Group code of conduct outlines our commitment to our employees, customers and all stakeholders and the expectations of all AMA Group employees, contractors and Directors. In particular, the code requires awareness of and compliance with laws and regulations relevant to the business of AMA Group, including occupational health and safety, fair trading and dealing, privacy and employment practices.

Our supply chain

AMA Group's supply chain includes over 2,000 suppliers comprising an extensive range of automotive aftercare products including automotive parts and consumables.

The majority of AMA Group purchases are from Australian and New Zealand based companies on short and long-term contractual arrangements and relationships. Many of these suppliers supply goods sourced through large global automotive original equipment manufacturers. After completing an extensive review, AMA Group considers that the inherent risk of modern slavery in this supply chain is low to medium.

Noting this, AMA Group has also identified very limited circumstances in which the inherent risk of modern slavery could be considered high, and further investigations are prudent.

Actions taken to assess and address the risk of modern slavery

For the financial year ended 30 June 2025, we completed a Modern Slavery Risk Assessment of 2,831 suppliers in total.

During the reporting period, AMA Group completed a detailed review of 2,536 suppliers, representing 96% of the Group's total spend profile. This comprehensive assessment formed part of AMA Group's ongoing commitment to identifying and addressing modern slavery risks within its operations and supply chains.

The remaining suppliers, which represent approximately 4% of the Group's total spend profile, will be reviewed in the coming months.

Code of business conduct and ethics

AMA Group's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics for Suppliers sets out the minimum standard for conducting business with the AMA Group in a safe, professional, legal and ethical manner and as such includes:

- Ethical business practices to accept responsibility for behaving professionally, ethically and with integrity and fairness.
- Social behaviour to conform to relevant labour standards.
- Environmental behaviour to recognise the importance of reducing environmental impacts.
- Modern Slavery Act (2018) compliance.

Whistleblower policy

AMA Group is committed to the highest standards of conduct and ethical behaviour across the Group and to promoting and supporting a culture of honest and ethical behaviour including labour practices and human rights. The Whistleblower policy provides a confidential and secure process for addressing wrongdoing which may otherwise go undetected. The Group encourages the reporting of any instances of suspected unethical, illegal, fraudulent or undesirable conduct involving the Group.

Training

AMA Group understands the importance of employee awareness of AMA Group's policies and practices and aims to increase awareness of modern slavery via appropriate training in relation to promoting ethical behaviour within our operations. The Group will include an update in future reports.

We recognise that training and building employee awareness is a key component of addressing risks of modern slavery, both internally and within our external supply chain.

AMA Group is developing our training program with a focus on staff in key leadership and commercial procurement roles.

Actions taken by the AMA Group

- ✓ We remained actively engaged and compliant with the latest governance requirements under the Modern Slavery Act, ensuring that our internal frameworks continue to reflect evolving expectations.
- ✓ Risk assessments were conducted across 96% of AMA Group's total spend profile, representing a significant step forward in our due diligence coverage.
- ✓ Key improvements to our supplier engagement and compliance processes include:
- ✓ Mandatory compliance commitment: Every new supplier is now required to formally acknowledge and adhere to AMA Group's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics for Suppliers.
- ✓ Enhanced onboarding: Our supplier onboarding process has transitioned to an online platform, enabling streamlined submission of modern slavery compliance documentation for all future suppliers.
- ✓ We have also continued proactive monitoring of our existing supply network to ensure ongoing alignment with the AMA Group Modern Slavery Policy.
- ✓ In addition, AMA Group has undertaken a review of our Modern Slavery Policy, ensuring it remains fit for purpose and responsive to the evolving global landscape of modern slavery risk and legislation.

Assessment and effectiveness of our actions

AMA Group understands the importance of monitoring the effectiveness of our anti-modern-slavery actions and processes. During this reporting period, AMA Group has continued to:

- Engage with our supply chain to highlight the importance modern slavery compliance.
- Review and assess the supplier risk assessment results.
- Further explore any identified suppliers.
- Regularly assess the effectiveness of our processes and adjusted to ensure target outcomes are achieved.
- AMA Group has not found any specific instances of modern slavery in our supply chain.

Future commitments

AMA Group will continue to develop our internal understanding, oversight and management of modern slavery risks throughout our operations and supply chain.

Our focus during the next reporting period will be:

- We will review and confirm our supplier platform and spend profile annually to ensure we are assessing the full supplier portfolio.
- We will validate our previous year's assessment with each supplier and test if any changes to risk rating are warranted.
- We will have completed risk mitigation activities identified from the prior year.
- We will consider any learnings or observations from any prior Modern Slavery management processes for inclusion in subsequent years.
